The brutality with which Chinese brothel kebpers treat their purchased girls is wel known in Hongkong, where some flagrant cases were exposed several years since. Happily for the inmates of these establishments, such devices for their protection from oppression or ill-treatment have been framed by the Registrar-General that we now hear of no cases of the kind. The girls are made thoroughly well aware of the fact that their mistresses can acquire no property in them by purchase, and that they can leave a house at any moment if they wish to do so, so that in apon it by publishing only an abridged prosthere is good ground to hope the days of oppression and brothel slavery are past in this it up somewhat for the benefit of the public.
